SIXTY CHRISTIANS BURNED.

FELL ON THEM WHILE WORSHIPING.

An Advance Guard of the Boxers Trapped Them and Barricated the Door and the Building was Fired—Battle Raging Between 20,000 Chinese and the Relief Column Trying to Relieve Tien-Tsin.

By Wire to the Telegram.

Victoria, June 25.—The steamship Tartar has arrived here, having left Yokohama June 8th. It brings serious tidings of the movements of the Boxers. Many foreigners had then been killed and much property destroyed. In a massacre at Loshum by the Boxers on their way to Pekin the village was practically wiped out.

At Kao-Lo sixty native Christians were burned to death while in the act of holding services. The Boxers fired the building and the Christians tried to escape, but found that the doors had been barracaded and that they were caught like rats. The flames soon enveloped them and only their charred bodies were left.

A FIERCE BATTLE RAGING.

London, June 25.—A fierce battle is now raging between twenty thousand Chinese and the relief force trying to save Tien-Tsin. The foreign column started yesterday from Taku, to cut its way through the Chinese line, which was rushed forward after the column of Americans and Russians which had previously been sent had been driven back. It is reported that the foreign admirals have blown up all the forts at Taku and are ready to rush all of their available army to Tien-Tsin.

London, June 25.—The admiralty has received the following from Rear Admiral Bruce, dated Taku, June 24th: "The total force which left Tien-Tsin with the commander-in-chief for Pekin was about 2,000. No action could possibly be taken to relieve the commander-in-chief, because it was only known that he was cut off by Tien-Tsin being invested.

FIGHTING UP TO SATURDAY NIGHT.

Shanghai, June 25.—Reports have been received up to Saturday night which say that the fighting at Tien-Tsin was still fierce and continuous. No accurate statement is obtainable as to the number of foreigners killed, but the present estimate places the number at 300.

The office was opened under favorable circumstances and will doubtprove of great benefit to the business of the company.

Nine Americans Killed.

Manila, June 23.—A detachment of forty men of the Fortieth Regiment, Captain Thos. Miller commanding, left Caygan de Misamis, Island of Mindano, scouting on June 13. During the morning of June 14 they encountered a strongly ambushed and entrenched force of the enemy.

The Americans' attempts to charge were frustrated by the Filipinos' pitfalls and traps. The advanced line, consequently, was under a heavy fire in front and on its flanks, and fell back on Caygan. The American loss was nine men killed and two officers and ten men wounded.

Pleased With State Normal.

Wilmington Dispatch.

Mrs. M. E. Keathley has returned from Greensboro, where she attended the commencement of the Normal and Industrial College. Keathley, was one of this year's graduates and took a prominent part in the graduating exercises. She was also one of the editors of the college magazine and is delayed in getting home on account of her duties in this connection.

THIRTY-FIVE PEOPLE KILLED.

TRAVELERS AND RAILROAD MEN.

A Disastrous Wreck on the Southern Railway—A Washout on the Macon Division Caused the Terrible Loss of Life.

News was received here yesterday of a most horrible accident which occurred on the Macon, Ga., division of the Southern Railway between 9 and 10 o'clock Saturday night. A washout caused the wreck of the passenger train between Atlanta and Macon, killing a number of passengers and railroad men and wounding others. It was at first reported that 14 passengers were killed, but a message received this afternoon states that 22 dead bodies have been taken from the wreck. The number of wounded is unknown.

On the fated train were four conductors and two or three engineers who were going to spend Sunday with their families in Macon. They were all killed.

This is one of the most disastrous wrecks that has occured in the South in years.

Later he was transferred to the Philippines, where he was in eight or ten engagements, being wounded the second time.

UNCLE SAM AND ENGLAND AGREE.

Do Not Believe in Spoliation or Partition of China—Will Doubtless be in Concert.

By Wire to the Telegram.

London, June 25.—Ambassador Choate conferred with Lord Salisbury Saturday and found that the two governments agree in their views in regards to the China situation, and will probably be found following the same broad line of policy in the far east.

The Times says there is no whisper in favor of the partition or spoliation of China in England or the United States, but that the time has come for the introduction of those practical reforms which Ambassador Choate and Lord Saltsbury declared to be desirable.

Cotton Market.

By Wire to the Telegram.

New York, June 25.—Cotton—June, .910; July, .12; August, .896; September, .865.

Bishop W. B. Derrick, of the African Methodist Church, is incensed at the use of his name as a promoter of the negro party. He says that it was a scheme of some short-sighted negro politician for effect at the Philadelphia convention, and that his advice to men of his race is to act as any other class of American voters in the exercise of the franchise, and not array themselves as they did in the days of reconstruction against the material interests of the communities in which they live. "Disregard of Southern interests by negro voters," he adds, "is responsible for negro disfranchisement in the South."

A committee to advocate the independence of the Boers has been formed in Paris, and yesterday issued a manifesto signed by 40 French Senators and Deputies, including eight ex-Ministers. The manifesto urges a union of all similar committees which exist in Russia, America, Germany, Holland and even in England, with the view of a combined effort to bring about peace and prevent the destruction of the two Republics.

INJURED BY AN EXPLOSION.

Four Men Horribly Mangled in Charlotte Today.

Special Despatch to the Telegram.

Charlotte, June 25.—At the Mecklinburg Iron Works, in this city, four men were horribly mangled, and probably fatally injured by the bursting of a cylinder head which contained ammonia. The injured are: Will Sevens, Osprey Frazier and Mortimer Bell, all white, and a negro workman. The legs of the white men were broken and mangled, one of Bell's arms also being shattered.

The wounded men were taken to a hospital. It is not known whether they are fatally injured.

BRYAN ON THE PLATFORM.

He Says It is the Best Evidence Yet Given of the Deception Attempted by the Republican Party.

Milwaukee, June 23—The Daily News today says: "Col. W. J. Bryan en route to Chicago and Lincoln, from his vacation, said regarding the Republican platform at Philadelphia:

"'The Philadelphia platform is the best evidence thus far given of the deception attempted by the Republican party.

"'Taken in connection with the speeches made at the convention, it shows that the Republican party's platform of 1896 was a deliberate fraud, as far as the promises of international bi-metallism were concerned; that the party's attitude on the trust question is insincere and that the party is not willing to state its attitude on the Philippine question and invite the judgment of the people. Nothing was more manifest in the convention than he military spirit, and yet the convention did not dare endorse the demand of the President in 1898 for a standing army of 100,000 men.'

"Colonel Bryan declared that the reports of serious differences between himself and Chairman Jones were absolutely false.'"

WILL SUPPORT THE AMENDMENT.

A Republican Leader Convinced by His Own Party's Literature.

A heretofore prominent Republican of Jamestown township has rebelled against the orders of the bosses and announced his intention of supporting the constitutional amendment. He has been a trusted leader in his township, and to him has been sent a great deal of literature from Republican headquarters for distribution in his neighborhood.

The gentleman says he was at first opposed to the amendment, but after reading the misrepresentations and false statements contained in the literature sent him he became convinced that it was his duty to vote for the measure, since he has always been in favor of white supremacy. He realizes that the amendment is the most important question that has ever confronted the people of the State, and says he will vote for it in preference to all other measures.

CENTRAL BUSINESS COLLEGE.

Experienced Men Will Shortly Open This Institution in Greensboro.

The Central Business College will be opened in Greensboro on September 5th under the direction of Messrs. T. G. Little and G. W. Broyles, who have been conducting the Concord Normal Business College at Athens, W. Va. These gentlemen will arrive in Greensboro about July 25th.

The college will be located in the building formerly occupied by the Brockmann School of Music, which will be remodelled and nicely furnished.

A first-class business college has long been needed in Greensboro, and such an institution will be liberally patronized.

While some boys were playing in a cellar in Cincinnati the other day George Kramer, five years of age, found $230 in gold. The boys suggested playing marbles, using the gold as chips. They played and Kramer won all the money. He took it home to his mother, who was very poor. She kept it for two days, but finally decided to do the honest thing and return it to the police. The money was claimed by another woman, who said that it was stolen from her trunk.

THE DEVELOPMENT OF CHINA.

HOW WILL IT EFFECT KING COTTON?

A North Carolina Grower Wants the United States to Get Two or Three Ports. The Early and Late Work of Republicans and Populists Against the Amendment---The Lethargy of Democrats in Certain Quarters---Raleigh's Baseball Team.

Special Correspondence of the Telegram.

Raleigh, June 24—The Populists at headquarters are this week sending out circulars calling on members of that party who didn't change in the various counties and townships to see that all other members are registered and to aid them in getting their names on the registration books. This is the circular about which Senator Butler spoke Friday, saying it was the most important of the campaign.

The State authorizes the Durham knitting mill to increase its capital stock from $200,000 to $500,000.

Observant people say the great development which will accompany and follow the opening of China will be of the greatest moment to North Carolina cotton growers and cotton spinners both. A large grower said today that he hoped in the grand division of China which is soon to be made, President McKinley will see to it that the United States gets two or three good ports. The reply was made to this wish that Uncle Sam generally got his share of the good things.

In all save two of the counties there are now "White Supremacy" clubs. In little Dare, with only 5 townships, there are 13, and in Bertie, with 9 townships, there are 20. Tomorrow 20 clubs will be organized in Wake. A very large one for the city of Raleigh was formed Friday evening.

The Populists and Republicans began their anti-amendment campaign last August. In some counties the Democrats were slow to act; in others, Buncombe and Rutherford for instance, they got at work months and months ago. What is the result? Why, that the two counties thus referred to are in better shape than some in the east, Halifax for example. Of course these eastern counties will swing into line; of course the Democrats in them will now work like beavers, but the moral is plain—never underrate an enemy and always begin early on a one-issue campaign like the present one.

The manager of the Raleigh baseball team has gone to Virginia to obtain some players from the Virginia league, which will end its season July 4. Some of the teams have stronger players than Raleigh's local players, and so the latter must be replaced with hired men. All the teams are hiring men, It is the old, old story. The way to make baseball really popular and full of spirit and of human interest is to have in each team only persons who are actual, bona fide, residents of the particular ciiy or town. The same rule applies to college ball. Professionalism is a bane.

Dr. Harry Louis Smith, who was recently elected president of Davidson College, will shortly deliver the commencement address at the University of Louisiana, of the faculty of which one of his brothers is a member. In noting the fact, the Concord Standard says:

"There's one comfort, though, North Carolina can stock a whole lot of the institutions about and then have good men enough at home yet to get along right well, bearing in mind that these commencement speeches often lead to calls."

Another Cleveland Recruit.

Greensboro Correspondence Charlotte Observer.

"The Observer must add another name to the immortals composing its Cleveland party. A Greensboro minister takes pride in the fact that he voted for Cleveland three times and does not hesitate to say that he is still partial to the Old Man."

Culture.

These unfortunate people have been accused of being provincial.

"And yet," they ventured, timidly, "we've patronized grand opera."

"Yes, but when the star advertised to sing doesn't sing you demand your money back," retorted High Art with withering scorn.

To be able to be flim-flammed with fortitude was, after all, a large element of the culture of the day.—Detroit Journal.

Wisdom of the West.

"We find," said the foreman of a Western jury, "that if, as the prisoner says, the shootin' was accidental, then he orter hang, fer in these gun affairs a man orter know his own mind. It orter be shoot ter kill or no shoot. A man who has accidents happen to him is dangerous to our society, and orter be put out of the way fer the safety of PhiladelphiaN orth Americaan. respectable folks." — Philadelphia North American.

WHY NOT A TRUNK FACTORY?

Greensboro Offers an Inviting Field for the Location of Such an Enterprise.

A business man suggests to the Telegram that a trunk factory would not only be a valuable addition to the industries of the city, but a profitable enterprise to those investing their money in it. Trunks could be manufactured in Greensboro to as great an advantage as any other place, and it is but natural that the business men of this section would encourage such an enterprise.

No great amount of capital would be required to establish and carry on the business, which is said to yield handsome dividends, with the proper management. The gentleman referred to cited two instances where men went into the business on a comparatively small capital and grew wealthy. Greensboro would be found an inviting field in which to try the experiment.

TALK OF AN EXTRA SESSION.

The News That the Empress Dowager Has Ordered the Extermination of Foreigners Not Believed—The War and Navy Department, Now Thoroughly Alarmed, Are Sending Re-enforcements of Ships and Men With All Possible Haste.

Washington, June 23.—Dispatches received today from Admiral Kempff announced that fighting was in progress near Tien-Tsin. Beyond the information that the American marines, under Major Waller, and 400 Russians had been engaged with the Chinese army, and that a second attack with a force of 2,000 was about to be made, no special details were received. The officials waited anxiously throughout the day to learn the result of this second movement, but up to a late hour no further word had come from the admiral or any other source. The news was sufficient, however, to accentuate the need of re-enforcements and the officials of the War and Navy Department were exerting themselves in preparing to forward men, ships and supplies as fast as possible. This dispatch of troops from Manila is mainly impeded by the severe storms now raging in the Indian Sea. Hurry orders were given to make ready for sea the three naval colliers, Hannibal, Alexander and Saturn, now at Norfolk, for the purpose of taking supplies of coal to the Asiatic station. This led to the belief in some quarters that the colliers might be accompanied by some of the powerful ships now in Atlantic waters, possibly a portion of the North Atlantic squadron. But naval officials state that while Admiral Remey's force at Manila had been much depleted, there was no present purpose to send more ships. In case they are needed, however, the Atlanta is ready at New York and the Bancroft at Boston, both of them being light draft vessels which can be drawn upon if the developments seem to warrant such a course. The American naval force in China at present consists of the Newark, 400 men; Monocacy, 275; Nashville, 275, all at Taku; the Yorktown, 300, at Che Fu. The Oregon, which is under orders to go to Hong Kong, probably will start next Monday, but cannot reach the scene of action short of six or seven days. The Iris, a supply ship, also on the way. This will give Admiral Kempff a fleet of six ships, including the Oregon, when they are assembled a week hence.

Outside of the immediate necessity of meeting the military and naval requirements, the government is chiefly concerned in finding out to what extent the Chinese government is countenancing, or assisting, the warefare at Tien-Tsin. One of the highest officials of the administration said tonight that there was some evidence that General Tung Fu Sien, the principal general of the Mohammedan Chinese, was in command, and that possibly without orders from the Chinese government he had succeeded in leading off some of the regular Chinese troops. This would in part explain Admiral Kempff's message that the Chinese army is engaged in the fighting. But the assurances of the Chinese minister and the communications from Li Hung Chang and several of the influential Viceroys all lead to the belief that the Chinese government does not direct the movements now going on. This uncertainty must be cleared up within the next few hours and it will then be determined whether the authorities here are to deal with China or an uprising of Chinese rebels,

The critical condition of affairs brought out the usual large crop of sensational rumors. There were persistent reports that an extra session of Congress might be called, but members of the cabinet who would be apt to know if such a move were contemplated, dismissed the report as entirely unfounded. The alarming report from Shanghai that the Empress Dowager had ordered the extermination of all foreigners in China was received with great allowance at the State Department. At the same time this was the eleventh day of complete silence on the part of Minister Conger, and every hour of silence adds to the apprehension among the officials.

General MacAuthur's report of the ambushing of American troops in Luzon, resulting in a large casualty list, added somewhat to the perplexity of the War Department in providing soldiers for China, as this was another evidence that General MacArthur needed a considerable force to garrison and protect the many outlying points.

Last Friday night lightning struck the house of Mr. John Estridge, a farmer living near Waxhaw, killing one of his daughters outright and injuring another. They were sleeping in the same bed.

COLOR IN FLAGS.

Red Predominates Largely In the Standards of the Chief Nations.

Though the policy of military authorities in using less glaring colors in uniforms has been very marked of late years, red remains the most popular color for national standards.

Of 25 countries, 19 have flags with red in them, the list including Great Britain, United States, France, Germany, Austria, Italy, Spain, Denmark, Belgium, Sweden, Switzerland, Turkey, Mexico, Chili, Portugal, Venezuela and Cuba.

The countries which have blue as an element of their flags are Great Britain, United States, Russia, France, Holland, Ecuador, Sweden, Chile, Venezuela, Portugal and Cuba.

Three countries have black as one of the elements of their flags—Germany, Belgium and China, but Germany is the only one of the three that has black and white together.

There are six countries which have green as a color Ireland, Brazil (the flag of which is green chiefly), Mexico, Egypt, Italy and Persia.

Nine countries have flags in which the color is partly of yellow. These countries are Austria, Spain, Belgium, Egypt, Sweden, China, Persia, Brazil and Venezuela.

Countries with flags partly white are the United States, France, Germany, Russia, Austria, Italy, Switzerland, Turkey, Persia, Japan, Mexico, Holland, Denmark, Portugal, Cuba and Chile.

There is no white in the national standard of England, but the British naval flag has a white background.

The flag of Ecuador is nearer white than any other country, being made up of two parallel white columns between which is a column of blue, upon which are white stars.

CANCER IS NOT INCURABLE

Time was when Cancer was considered as incurable as leprosy. Physicians and friends could give little relief or encouragement to one afflicted with this terrible disease. Even now doctors know of no remedy for this fearful malady; while admitting it to be a blood disease, they still insist that there is no hope outside of a surgical operation, and advise you to have the Cancer cut out, but at the same time cannot assure you that it will not return. You may cut or draw out the sore, but another will come in its place, for the disease is in the blood—is deep-seated and destructive, and beyond the reach of the surgeon's knife or caustic, flesh-destroying plasters. The blood must be purified and strengthened, the system relieved of all poisonous, effete matter before the Cancer sore will heal.

S. S. S. is the only medicine that can overcome this powerful and contaminating poison and force it out of the blood. It builds up and invigorates the old, and supplies new, rich, life-giving blood. S. S. S. is a purely vegetable remedy; no mineral can be found in it; the roots and herbs from which it is made contain powerful purifying properties that act directly upon the blood system and make a safe and permanent cure of Cancer. It has cured thousands, why not you?

Cancer is not always inherited; your family may be free from any taint, yet your blood may become so polluted that a severe and stubborn form of the disease may develop from a sore or ulcer on your tongue or other part of your body; a slight bruise or hurt, a little pimple on the eyelid, lip or nose, a small lump on the jaw or breast, a harmless looking wart or mole, and other causes so insignificant as to attract little or no attention. If you have an obstinate sore, don't rely upon salves or ointments to cure it—begin with S. S. S. at once; it will cleanse your blood and prevent the formation of cancerous cells.

Impure Blood Invites Disease.

Mrs. R. Shirer, La Plata, Mo., writes: "A small pimple came on my jaw about one inch below the ear on the left side of my face. At first it gave me no trouble, and I did not think it was anything serious until the jaw began to swell and became much inflamed. At the same time the sore began to spread and eat into the flesh, and gave me intense pain. I tried everything I could hear of, but nothing did me any good. I then began the use of S. S. S., and after taking several bottles the Cancer healed, and there is now no sign of the disease. This was two years ago, and I am still enjoying perfect health."

Send for our special book on Cancer; it contains much information that will interest you; it is free.

Write our physicians about your case, and for any advice or information wanted; they have made a life study of Cancer and all blood diseases. We make no charge whatever for this.

IF CONSERVATISM PREVAILS.

Perhaps it is a waste of time to discuss what should or should not be written in the platform of the Kansas City convention next week. No doubt that which will emanate from the gathering is already as good as in black and white. Still, one can but hope that wisdom will be found sufficient to force a conservative and reasonable utterance, which, taking advantage of the weakness of the Republican party, will enable the Democratic party not only to be successful, but to go into office with the full confidence of the country. Whether a Republican victory shall be easy, or whether there be one at all, it seems to us, now depends upon the action of Democrats, for upon that action also depends whether the Republican party shall loom up before the country as the giant it professes to be, or appear the pitiably weak creature that it really is. That the Republican record is vulnerable, and that its extreme weakness has been written in its platform, cannot be denied. Even so thick and thin a supporter as the New York Sun has lead in an apology for the official utterance.

The Democratic party today appears in a position of extreme radicalism on one subject and in one of extreme conservatism on another. If it had the adaptability of the Republican party, it could strike the golden mean and sweep the country. The two questions referred to are silver and so-called imperialism. If the party could, by any manner of heroic treatment, be made to acknowledge silver as a past issue, its greatest source of weakness would be eliminated. Then let it move up to the position that recognizes expansion as a fact, and that Democrats were as instrumental as any in producing the conditions—urging the war with Spain—from which expansion came as a natural and unavoidable result, and that our duty is to accept these results as a matter of duty and opportunity rather than imperialism, and live more up to the reqirements dictated by duty and humanity than the Republicans have done—in other words, a clean handling of these new responsibilities. Then the opposition to Republicanism could be based more upon the rights of manhood and individualism for which Democracy stands, against the assumed rights of money. The country just now wants a clear, conservative utterance, direct and unequivocal.

There has never been any doubt of the absolute friendship for the people and their rights of the Democratic party as led by Mr. Bryan. While not doubting his good intentions, the country has been afraid of Mr. Bryan's extreme measures. If the party can, in the coming convention, issue a manifesto, conservative and safe, but not reactionary, it will largely allay the fear of radicalism which the Chicago platform inspired, and will then have a chance, an even chance with the Republicans, of carrying the country. But unless this is done there is no more chance than there was in 1896, and we shall have four more years of Republican administration, with more corruption, more scandal, and a further and further drift of the government from a protection of the rights of citizens. Conservatism only must prevail. Radicalism can accomplish but another defeat. Above all, the party should not allow itself to be put in a position of being accused of "pulling the flag down," for this one cry will be more potent in the campaign than all the labored arguments on liberty, the Declaration of Independence, and the Constitution, that can be made.

There is published at Concord a little paper called the "Cotton Boll" It is published by negroes. It appeared until recently to be in the hands of a man who was trying to use it as an instrument for the elevation of his race. Its regime, however, has changed and it appears now to be in the hands of a negro who is a politician. His opening number embraces principally political editorials, in one of which he bewails the fact that the Republican platform is so tame against the amendment. It is peculiar, the ideas that leading negroes have of what their race should be and do. Take this paper for instance. I arrays itself with the low down element in politics, professing that that is the road to elevation of character and race interests. At the same time it prints an "anti-kink" advertisement, which claims to make "curly" hair straight. Verily the poor negro is a universal victim.

Richard Croker reacned home Saturday and at once proceeded to explain about the ice trust and told about the Democratic platform. We have an impression that the less Richard says the better it will be for the Democratic party.

The statement that the rise of wheat in New York Saturday means to the public a rise of $1 to $1.25 per barrel for flour, may be pointed to as another bolt from the sky of prosperity.

STAR OF THE EVENING.

Written for The Telegram.

Star of the Evening far away
In the sunset's roseate glow,
Other was thy tender ray
Long ago.

Over home's low fields thy light
Lingering fell, in years foregone,
Now, o'er mountain pines, and night
Sinks anon.

Homeward turns the bird and bee
When thy taper pale doth burn.
But no more shall I, ah me,
Homeward turn!

She is gone, the sister sweet
That once met me at the door;
Mother, father could we greet
There no more.

While no thundering oceans bar
Me from those lost scenes beloved,
Still, thou art, than they, O Star.
Less removed!

WORTH STUDYING.

Sex and Nationality in Crime and Insanity.

Four persons out of every 3,000 men, women and children in the United States are either in jail, or out in bail, or are fugitives from justice. Their total number is 90,000, out of a population estimated at 70,000,000.

American women make an excellent showing—or rather, lack of showing—in crime statistics. Only 6 per cent. of all those who have fallen foul of the law are women.

The sex is most prominent in what are known as crimes against society, including bigamy. To this class of offenders it contributes 25 per cent, of the total.

The total number of crimes committed against the person, running the whole gamut from assault to murder, are 20 per cent of the total of crimes committed in the country.

Against society are 25 per cent of all the crimes published in the United States, while 10 per cent are miscellaneous ones which it is impossible to classify.

The proportion of the natives to the foreign classes and to the colored class among the prisoners in the United States is interesting. It is surprising to find that less than 5 per cent. of all prisoners are colored. Foreigners are much more numerous in the criminal courts, 30 per cent perhaps, while 65 per cent are natives.

It is recorded that of the total insane in the United Staes 7 per cent are colored, 28 per cent are foreigners and 65 per cent. natives. This, of course, does not mean that the number of insane natives is greater in proportion to the population. Judged on this basis the percentage of native insane is smaller than among the foreigners or colored people. In sex there is almost no difference, the women outnumbering the men so slightly that the difference is scarcely appreciable.

In the pauper wards the relation of classes is very different. But 50 per cent. of the total number of paupers are natives, while 41 per cent. are foreigners and 9 per cent. are colored. The women are outnumbered by the men in the asylum throughout the country by a ratio of 44 to 56.

The insane come in large proportions from country regions, in spite of the quiet, monotonous life.

Denver's Great Chimney.

The tallest chimney of the Grant smelter is an object of interest to every visitor of Denver. It is by far the tallest smokestack in the United States, and has out two rivals in the world. The following facts will give the reader an adequate idea of the immensity of this chimney: It is 352 feet 4 inches in height. There are 1,943,000 bricks in this immense shaft.

Not Always.

"I am sorry to disappoint you young man," said the great railway magnate to the reporter who had called in for the purpose of writing him up, "but I did not begin at the bottom and work my way up. I never blacked the boots of the engine wipers and never carried beer for the janitor of the roundhouse. I was kicked through college by my father, inherited a fortune, which I invested in railroad shares, and I hold this job because I have votes enough to control it. It is too bad, my young friend, but we can't all be self-made men. We would become tiresome."

And he bowed the caller out.

McAdoo House Building.

The Journal says that the wife of Peter Summerow, who lives about four miles north of Lincolnton, made a desperate effort to commit suicide by cutting her throat Friday morning of week before last. She inflicted several ugly gashes upon her throat, one of which laid open the flesh to the windpipe. Dr. Crowell dressed the wounds and said she would recover. The unfortunate woman has been mentally unbalanced for some time.

LIFE PROLONGED.

More About Metchnitkoff's Serum for Old Age.

Dr. Elie Metchnitkoff, of Paris, has reason to believe that he will discover serums which will feed the human cells so accurately that the life of man may be prolonged to two hundred and fifty years.

He said the other day: "At present we are only in the theoretic stage, but the surprising success that has attended our experiments thus far gives hope that we shall soon be far beyond mere theory. Unless the best serum for use to the end of strengthening and invigorating the nobler cells of the human body is found, we shall be defenseless against old age, but this once discovered, the cells needing it are armed for the conflict with their destroying neighbors. Then death will become less terrible, for we can adjourn the final hour until the tired body calls for rest. The time assuredly will come when we shall be able to maintain for an indefinite period the equilibrium between the constructive and destructive forces of the body. I am not prepared to say that man ever will be able to live always. No one would want that. Some force apparently outside one's self but really within now commands that one should die. All of us will be glad of death at some time, just as we wish to stop eating when we are satisfied."

Dr. Mirey, the newly elected president of the Academy of Medicine, expresses regret that this so-called discovery has received such wide publicity thus early. "It has not yet come before any scientific body for examination," he says, "and until this happens scientific men will pay no attention to newspaper talk on the subject."

THE FUR CROP.

How Animals Are Trapped in Northwestern Connecticut.

The method of trapping foxes near Winsted, Conn., is unique. A large stone is placed in the centre of a pool, just out of the foxes reach. On the stone is a piece of meat for bait. In the water nearby a steel-jawed trap is hidden and a piece of green moss four or five inches square put on the pan of the trap. The trap is under water and the green moss hides it. The fox doesn't like going into the water in this weather, and when he sees the bait he figures out that he can get it by jumping on the moss, but he doesn't succumb all at once. He begins to trot around the pool, trying to find some other way of reaching the bait. If he is very hungry, or very young he will stop after a few laps and, standing on the moss, get himself immediately caught.

The trap is not fastened to anything, and the fox carries it out, but he cannot go far with it, owing to the pain inflicted by the jaws and to its weight. He is soon tracked down and captured by the hunter.

The old wily foxes are not deceived by the green patch of moss. Sometimes they will trot around the pool until they have worn a path about it.

A coon which has less intelligence than a fox, can always be trapped by the pool and moss game, but even when trapped he is not always caught, for he will gnaw his leg off, and, leaving it in the trap, get away with the rest of himself

The quotations in the market this year are as follows: Raccoon skins, from 90 cents to 25 cents; mink, from $3.50 to 50 cents; red fox, from $3.00 to 60 cents; beaver, from $7.00 to $2.50; skunk, from $1.50 to 45 cents; muskrats, from 11 cents to 8 cents; gray fox, from $1 to 40 cents; black bear, from $25 to $15; black bear cubs, from $12 to $6; otter, from $10 to $7; fisher, from $8 to $6; silver fox, from $150 to $50; cross fox, from $20 to $10; lynx, from $10 to $5; wild cat, from 35 cents to 20 cents; tame cat, black, 30 cents; badger, 40 cents; civet cat, 30 cents.

Now and then a lynx is bagged on the New York border, but not often. But foxes, red and gray, a few cross foxes, minks, otter, skunks, wild cats and 'coons are plentiful enough, and are shipped from all the towns hereabouts in large quanities. Nearly all the minks and many of the other animals are secured by trappers.

Influenza Caused by Ozone.

On one occasion the writer walked to the edge of Lake Michigan when a strong wind was blowing right from the lake. The bodily condition was as near perfect as could be, and yet in less than five minutes there was every evidence of having caught an extremely hard cold. The severe influenza continued until, on walking away, in less than 500 feet, it disappeared as if by magic. It is very certain that the temperature had nothing to do with this, nor the wind; but the influenza was directly due to the abundant ozone in the air. By inquiry it was learned that hundreds of residents who had lived upon the immediate edge of the lake had been obliged to move back three or four miles in order to relieve themselves from such experiences.

Physicians readily admit that it is not always possible to say why one "catches" cold; it certainly cannot always be because of undue exposure or change in temperature, but probably also to changes in the electric condition of the air. Facts of this kind should lead to the extremest caution in studying any supposed relation between the weather and health.—Popular Science.

"Yes, we are."

"Present clerk about anywhere?"

"Well, 'm clerk at present sir.'

"Ah! That's good. Now, what sort of a lobster may the boss be? Old?"

"About my own age."

"Had any trouble with him at all?"

"Well I can't say I have."

"Close-fisted guy, ain't he?"

"Some people might call him so."

"I thought so. If I get on here and he tries any of his nonsense on me I'll get his head in the sugar bin. Just give him my name, will you?"

"Well, if you're applying for the situation, I'm taking on the new man."

"You are? Now, I should like to get this shop. Think you can come to an immediate decision if I made it worth your while?"

"Shouldn't wonder."

"Ah! Now, I suppose we may consider it settled eh?" as he slipped a bill into the meek young man's hand.

"Yes," said the individual as he quietly pocketed the William. "Somehow I don't think you'll suit."

"Thunder! Not suit; why, how's that?"

"Well, you see, I happen to be the boss myself."—Exchange.

Second Cannibal—I should say not. I feel as if I had eaten a dairy lunch!—Detroit Journal.

Nothing that has ever yet been produced in the way of summer footwear for men will begin to compare for comfort, coolness and durability with shoes made of tan vici kid. If you have never tried shoes made of this material, ask any man who has worn them and you will find him ehthusiastic in their praise. But it is possible to have too much of a good thing and we find ourselves overstocked with certain lines of tan vici shoes. So in order to reduce the surplus, we have cut some fifty pairs of the $3 50, $3.00 and $2.75 grades down to $2.48. You can see the samples of these in our north window the rest of this week and if you are going to need another pair of shoes this summer it will be worth your while to stop and take a look at these. WINE OF CARDUI

A SURE MEDICINE.

HANDSOM, VA., Dec. 31.
I have been suffering from female weakness for four years, and have taken many medicines, but Wine of Cardui and Black-Draught have done more for me than anything else.
MRS. CAROLINE EVANS.

McELREE'S Wine of Cardui

It is a mistake to take any and every kind of medicine when you are sick. There is danger in it. Most of the so-called cures for "female weakness" do nothing more than deaden the pain temporarily, and when the effect wears away the patient is weaker and sicker than before. It is never wise to take chances. You have only one life, and that is dear and precious. If you have any pain, ache, disorder or weakness in the feminine organs, nothing will help you like Wine of Cardui. It helps do away with morning sickness during the early stages of pregnancy, and modifies the pains of childbirth; recovery is rapid and future health is assured. The Wine is purely vegetable, being made of herbs whose medicinal properties act directly upon the organs of womanhood. It is a long-tried remedy, and has many years of success behind it. It is sure. Why take a chance medicine when you can get a sure medicine?

Professor Pearson at Morehead.

Geo. H. Crowell in High Point Enterprise.

But the program committee occupied the hour by Prof. T. Gilbert Pearson, of Guilford College, N. C., who delivered his highly entertaining and instructive lecture on "Birds of North Carolina." He presented the subject under three heads: First, "Birds," secondly, "The value of birds," thirdly, "The protection of birds," and then he made an appeal, and I think convinced everyone that birds should be protected. He touched forcibly upon the habits, customs and migrations of birds, illustrating as he proceeded with his lecture to such an extent that I, myself, realized as I had never before, how much there is to know about birds and how little I knew, and I feel sure that I was not alone in my ignorance. There is a world of information and inspiration in the study of birds that we might, by a little attention each day, acquire; but, as it is, we die ignorant of that tribe which brings to man, perhaps, more happiness than any other tribe in the animal kingdom. Mr. Pearson is certainly familiar with his subject and lectures with an ease and confidence that is rare in many speakers. His lecture was considered one of the best on the program and Guilford College and Guilford county should feel proud of Mr. Pearson and his ability in this line of nature work. He is now preparing a book about birds which will go into the public schools of North Carolina to gladden and inspire the hearts of her children, which work will be a benefaction to both, the children and birds.

PRACTICAL EDUCATION AT THE A. & M. COLLEGE.

We have received a little hand book of the North Carolina College of Agriculture and Mechanic Arts of Raleigh, N. C., and we are glad to see that this Institution is devoting itself zealously to technical education and manual training. Our State needs well educated men in all lines of engineering, especially mechanical and electrical engineering, and also thousands of skilled workmen, expert carpenters, wood-turners, blacksmiths, machinists, mechanics, mill workers, boiler-tenders, electricians, and dynamo-tenders. The A. & M. College trains lads for such work, and if they possess talent, educates them for all technical professions.

The College last year enrolled 302 students, of whom many paid their own expenses by labor at odd times. Students who do not labor may attend the College at a total expense, including clothing and books, in fact everything, for about $140. This can be reduced one-half by securing a free scholarship and obtaining work at the College.

Entrance examinations will be held in the county courthouse Saturday, July 28th, at 10 o'clock a. m., in the office of the County Superintendent of Public Instruction. Any boy may obtain a copy of the little hand-book, with full information about the College and the examinations, by applying to President George T. Winston, Raleigh, N. C.

President Dudley, of the colored Agricultural and Mechanical College, has been invited to deliver an address shortly before the Afro-American Council at Indianapolis on the subject, "How may Crime be Decreased?"

COYOTE HUNTING.

As a Substitute for the Fascination of the Fox Chase.

Egad, it's English. but it's the greatest clean sport in the world. And why shouldn't the 'ounds make as much noise at he death of a coyote as leaping at the throat of a fox?

They do it at Colorado Springs, and it's the national sport across the briny. The men, in red coats and 'unting stocks that look like the bandannas snatched from a contadini at the feast of San Marco the ladies, in at the death and making the fox glad he's to be laid at their feet.

Denver is enjoying sport with the hounds, not to be outdone by Little Lunnon, or big Lunnon, either. A club is to be formed. Women will be taught that golf is not the only thing, and Charles Walker, a gentleman sport, so to speak, is now training horses and a pack of greyhounds. At present a few select men are the only devotees of the stirring sport. A pack belonging to Louis and T. W. Bartels is now used by those indulging in the chase. The horses are as expert as any at Colorado Springs. A few hours rest yesterday an exciting straightaway and the return to town was made with a fine coyote. And it was not out of sight of the haze of smoke that denoted the smelters and factories.

The return smacked of the exciting finish. In a vehicle in the rear of a party of horsemen was a large cage in which were the greyhounds, still excited and giving voice to the fact that the skulker of the plains, a silver and dull gold coyote, lay bloodily on the top of the wire netting. In the party were Charles MacA. Willcox, the Bartelses, Charles Barrows, "Milord" Donohue, of Colorado Springs, also the owner there of a well-known pack; Messrs. Norman, Cooke and Ramsay. The course they have selected is about 10 miles beyond the Dubois ranch, where the country is practically entirely free from barb-wire fences. The only danger is from prairie dog holes, but the riders can usually avert danger from that source, and the prairie grass is soft.—Denver Post.

Yes, August Flower still has the largest sale of any medicine in the civilized world. Your mothers and grandmothers never thought of using anything else for indigestion or biliousness. Doctors were scarce, and they seldom heard of appendicitis, nervous prostration or heart failure, etc. They used August Flower to clean out the system and stop fermentation of undigested food, regulate the action of the liver, stimulate the nervous and organic action of the system, and that is all they took when feeling dull and bad with headaches and othaches. You only need a few doses of Green's August Flower, in liquid form, to moke you satisfied there is nothing serious the matter with you. For sale by Grissom & Fordham.

CATARRH CAN BE CURED BY

Johnston's Sarsaparilla

QUART BOTTLES.

"DANGER IN THE EARTH AND AIR; DANGER EVERYWHERE."

A Wise and Venerable Doctor Talks about Advanced Science.

In a leading hotel, in a great city, a famous and aged physician was conversing. Listening to his wise and sententious discourse, were a group of well dressed men, evidently lawyers, business men and commercial travelers.

My firm belief, is "that medical science is certain yet to show that all diseases without exception are caused by invisible germs which are living organisms. Here is the germ of that terrible disease diphtheria. Here is the bacillus of typhoid fever; and here is the still more dreadful bacillus of tubercle which causes that most destructive of all diseases, consumption. This of that very common and supposed incurable disease, catarrh."

"I wish, Doctor," said the traveling man, "that you would tell us about catarrh. I have had it for years, and I am thoroughly discouraged."

The Doctor answered. "Catarrh, like diphtheria, consumption, typhoid fever, and a host of other diseases, is the result of a microbe invading the blood and attacking specially the mucous membrane. This foul and most disgusting disease is especially prevalent in the United States and it is rare to meet one who is not, or has not been troubled more or less with it. How often is he or she obliged to remain at home from pleasant entertainments, deprive themselves of many intellectual treats, from fear of the disagreeable odor arising from catarrhal affections. In its worst phase, the patient becomes loathsome both to himself and his friends.

"I believe," continued this great physician, "that the true way to heal catarrh is to medicate the blood. This can be done only by powerful alteratives which act as blood purifiers."

Betsy A. Marett, of Manistee, Manistee Co., Mich., writes:

Dear Sirs:—For ten years I was a sufferer from general debility and chronic catarrh. My face was pale as death. I was weak and short of breath. I could hardly walk, I was so dizzy and had a ringing in my head all the time. My hands and feet were always cold. My appetite was very poor. On getting up in the morning, my head swam so I was often obliged to lie down again. I had awful pains in the small of my back. I had a continual feeling of tiredness. My muscular power was almost entirely gone, and I couldn't go half a dozen steps without stopping to rest, and often that much exercise caused me to have a pain in my side. It seemed as though the blood had left my veins. The doctors said my blood had all turned to water. I had given up all hope of ever getting well. I tried the best physicians in the state, but failed to get any relief. My husband got me a bottle of Johnston's Sarsaparilla. I took it, and then I bought another. When these had been used, I was somewhat improved in health. I continued its use, and felt I was growing stronger; my sleep was refreshing, and it seemed as if I could feel new blood moving through my veins. I kept on taking it, and now consider myself a well and rugged woman. I work all the time, and am happy. I am positive that the Sarsaparilla saved my life. The sick headaches I have had since childhood, have disappeared, and my catarrh has almost entirely left me. I cannot be too thankful for what Johnston's Sarsaparilla has done for me. I recommend all women who have sick headaches to use your Sarsaparilla.

Rev. W. L. Grissom occupied the pulpit at Centenary Methodist church yesterday morning. He made a very interesting talk on the recent Ecumenical Conference in New York, to which he was a delegate.

Roosevelt and the Tramp.

Philadelphia Press.

Theodore Roosevelt came to town last Saturday in a parlor car. He was driven to his hotel in a coupe. He dined to the musit of a hidden Hungarian orchestra, amid the white of spotless napery, the glow of June roses and the adulation to which the Governor of New York of right is entitled.

Weary of the pomp and ceremonial of his welcome, Theodore Roosevelt slipped away from his hotel about bedtime and walked slowly down Broad street. In the shadow of an electric light he paused.

Beside him stood another man. This other man was neither reassuring in appearance nor savory of presence. If he needed a square meal as badly as he needed a shave he must have been ravenously hungry.

Theodore Roosevelt eyed him with suspicion and moved toward the curb. The other man faced him, straight and soldierly in all his shabbiness. He held out one hand, and with the other touched his battered hat in military salute.

"How do you do, Colonel?" he said.

"You seem to have the advantage of me," said Gov. Roosevelt.

"I held your horse for you down there by the Sunken Road when you got off to get a drink at the spring," said the tramp. "I was a Rough Rider, sir."

"I remember the incident," said Theodore Roosevelt, "but I can't place your face. You don't look wealthy. Is there anything I can do——"

"Colonel," interrupted the tramp, "I helped you to get a drink in Cuba. Can you——"

Roosevelt's hand slipped into his pocket. A bright half dollar lay in the other man's palm.

"Thank you, Colonel," said the tramp.

Shot While Eating Supper.

Fayetteville Observer.

News has just reached here of a most shocking tragedy in Bladen county Friday night. Mr. Charles Chasen, overseer of Capt. A. B. William's plantation at Hampton, was shot while eating his supper, surrounded by his wife and five children. The assassin fired through a window, blowing Mr. Chasen's brains out.

On arriving home Saturday Mr. Hanna said that President McKinley would make no speeches during the campaign except perhaps a few brief talks to visiting delegations at his home in Canton, where the chief executive will spend his vacation. Governor Roosevelt, the Senator said, would probably take the stump during the campaign and deliver a number of speeches.
